FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of FEBRUARY 6, 1829.

The Speech of the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament, on Thursday, February 5, 1829.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

HIS Majesty commands us to inform you, that He continues to receive from His Allies, and generally from all Princes and States, the assurance of their unabated desire to cultivate the most friendly relations with His Majesty.

Under the mediation of His Majesty, the preliminaries of a Treaty of Peace between His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Brazil and the Republic of the United Provinces of Rio de la Plata have been signed and ratified.

His Majesty has concluded a Convention with the King of Spain, for the final settlement of the claims of British and Spanish subjects preferred under the Treaty signed at Madrid on the 12th March 1823.

His

His Majesty has directed a copy of this Convention to be laid before you; and His Majesty relies upon your assistance to enable Him to execute some of its provisions.

His Majesty laments that His diplomatic relations with Portugal are still necessarily suspended.

Deeply interested in the prosperity of the Portuguese Monarchy, His Majesty has entered into negociations with the Head of the House of Braganza, in the hope of terminating a state of affairs which is incompatible with the permanent tranquillity and welfare of Portugal.

His Majesty commands us to assure you, that He has laboured unremittingly to fulfil the stipulations of the Treaty of the 6th July 1827, and to effect, in concert with His Allies, the pacification of Greece.

The Morca has been liberated from the presence of the Egyptian and Turkish forces. This important object has been accomplished by the successful exertions of the naval forces of His Majesty and of His Allies, which led to a Convention with the Pacha of Egypt; and finally, by the skilful disposition and exemplary conduct of the French army, acting by the commands of His Most Christian Majesty on the behalf of the Alliance.

The troops of His Most Christian Majesty, having completed the task assigned to them by the Allies, have commenced their return to France.

It is with great satisfaction that His Majesty informs you, that, during the whole of these operations, the most cordial union has subsisted between the forces of the three Powers by sea and land.

His Majesty deplores the continuance of hostilities between the Emperor of Russia and the Ottoman Porte.

His Imperial Majesty, in the prosecution of those hostilities, has considered it necessary to resume the exercise of His belligerent rights in the Mediterranean, and has established a blockade of the Dardanelles.

From the operation of this blockade those commercial enterprises of His Majesty's subjects have been exempted, which were undertaken upon the faith of His Majesty's declaration to His Parliament respecting the neutrality of the Mediterranean Sea.

Although it has become indispensable for His Majesty and the King of France to suspend the cooperation of their forces with those of His Imperial Majesty, in consequence of this resumption of the exercise of His belligerent rights, the best understanding prevails between the three Powers in their endeavours to accomplish the remaining objects of the Treaty of London.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

We are commanded by His Majesty to acquaint you, that the estimates for the current year will forthwith be laid before you. His Majesty relies on your readiness to grant the necessary supplies, with a just regard to the exigencies of the public service, and to the economy which His Majesty is anxious to enforce in every department of the State.

His Majesty has the satisfaction to announce to you the continued improvement of the revenue. The progressive increase in that branch of it which is derived from articles of internal consumption is peculiarly gratifying to His Majesty, as affording a decisive indication of the stability of the national resources, and of the increased comfort and prosperity of His people.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

The state of Ireland has been the object of His Majesty's continued solicitude.

His Majesty laments that in that part of the United

United Kingdom an Association should still exist which is dangerous to the public peace, and inconsistent with the spirit of the Constitution; which keeps alive discord and ill-will amongst His Majesty's subjects; and which must, if permitted to continue, effectually obstruct every effort permanently to improve the condition of Ireland.

His Majesty confidently relies on the wisdom and on the support of His Parliament; and His Majesty feels assured, that you will commit to Him such powers as may enable His Majesty to maintain His just authority.

His Majesty recommends, that when this essential object shall have been accomplished, you should take into your deliberate consideration the whole condition of Ireland; and that you should review the laws which impose civil disabilities on His Majesty's Roman Catholic subjects.

You will consider whether the removal of those disabilities can be effected consistently with the full and permanent security of our establishments in Church and State, with the maintenance of the reformed Religion established by law, and of the rights and privileges of the Bishops and of the Clergy of this Realm, and of the Churches committed to their charge. These are institutions which must ever be held sacred in this Protestant Kingdom, and which it is the duty and the determination of His Majesty to preserve inviolate.

His Majesty most earnestly recommends to you to enter upon the consideration of a subject of such paramount importance, deeply interesting to the best feelings of His people, and involving the tranquillity and concord of the United Kingdom, with the temper and the moderation which will best ensure the successful issue of your deliberations.

Whitehall, February 3, 1829.

The King has been pleased to present the Reverend John M'Allister to the church at Innerwick of Glenlyon, in the parish of Fortingale, in the presbytery of Dunkeld and shire of Perth.

The King has also been pleased to present the Reverend Peter M'Vean to the church at Muckairn, in the presbytery of Lorn and shire of Argyll.

A CHAPTER of the Most Noble Order of the Garter having been summoned for this day, the following Knights Companions, in their mantles and collars, assembled in the Entrée-room, viz.

His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, the Earl of Westmorland, the Marquess Camden, the Earl of Hardwicke, the Duke of Beaufort, the Earl of Lonsdale, the Marquess Wellesley, the Duke of Wellington, the Earl Bathurst, the Marquess of Anglesey, the Marquess of Bath, the Duke of Dorset, the Duke of Leeds, the Duke of Devonshire, and the Marquess of Exeter, attended by the Officers of the Order, viz. the Lord Bishop of Winchester, Prelate of the Order; the Lord Bishop of Salisbury, Chancellor of the Order: the Honourable and Reverend the Dean of Windsor, Register of the Order; Sir George Nayler, Knight, Garter Principal King of Arms; and Sir Thomas Tyrwhitt, Knight, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod.

At three o'clock, the Knights Companions were called over by Garter, and, with the Officers of the Order, proceeded into the presence of the Sovereign, in the Throne-room; the Prelate and the Chancellor going no further than the door, their Lordships not having been sworn.

The Sovereign and Knights Companions being seated, the Register acquainted the Sovereign, that the

the Right Reverend Dr. Thomas Burgess, Lord Bishop of Salisbury, attended at the door, and humbly prayed to be admitted to take the oath as Chancellor of this Most Noble Order; whereupon his Lordship, in his mantle over his episcopal habit, was conducted to the Sovereign, between Garter and Black Rod, Garter carrying, upon a crimson velvet cushion, the purse, gold chain, and badge. The Bishop kneeling near the Sovereign, the oath was administered to him by the Register, Garter holding the Gospels. His Lordship being then invested by the Sovereign with the gold chain and badge, the purse was delivered to him by His Majesty, and his Lordship, having had the honour to kiss His Majesty's hand, withdrew to his place, on the left hand of the Sovereign.

The Chancellor then acquainted the Sovereign, that the Right Reverend Dr. Charles-Richard Sumner, Lord Bishop of Winchester, attended at the door, and humbly besought His Majesty that he might be admitted to take the oath as Prelate of this Most Noble Order; whereupon his Lordship, in his mantle over his episcopal habit, and wearing his chain and badge (with which his Lordship had been previously invested by His Majesty) being, by the Sovereign's command, introduced between Garter and Black Rod, was conducted to His Majesty, and kneeling, the oath of office was administered to him by the Register, Garter holding the book. The Prelate, having had the honour to kiss the Sovereign's hand, retired to his place, on the right hand of His Majesty.

The Chancellor then signified to the Chapter the Sovereign's royal will and pleasure, that one of the vacant stalls in the Royal Chapel of St. George, at Windsor, be filled; and as by the statutes none but a Knight can be elected, His Grace Charles Duke of Richmond was introduced, and knighted by His Majesty with the Sword of State, and His Grace, having kissed the Sovereign's hand, retired.

The Knights Companions then proceeded to the election, and the suffrages having been collected by the Chancellor, were by his Lordship presented to the Sovereign, who was pleased to command him to declare, and he accordingly declared, that the Most Noble Charles Duke of Richmond had been duly elected a Knight Companion of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

Then, by the Sovereign's command, His Grace was received at the door of the Throne-room by the Duke of Devonshire and the Marquess of Exeter, the two Junior Knights Companions, and conducted between them to His Majesty, preceded by Garter (bearing the ensigns of the Order upon a crimson velvet cushion) and by Black Rod. The Duke of Richmond kneeling near the Sovereign, and Garter presenting on his knee the Garter, His Majesty, assisted by His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland and the Earl of Westmorland, the two Senior Knights Companions present, buckled it on His Grace's left leg, the Chancellor pronouncing the usual admonition.

Garter next presented, in like manner, the ribband with the George, and His Majesty, with the assistance of the two Senior Knights Companions, put the same over His Grace's left shoulder, the Chancellor pronouncing the admonition. The Duke having again kissed the Sovereign's hand, and received the congratulations of each of the Knights Companions, withdrew.

The Chapter being ended, the Knights Companions were again called over by Garter, and, with the Officers of the Order, retired from the presence of the Sovereign, with the usual reverences.

His Majesty directs us to inform you, that He continues to receive from His Allies, and from all Foreign Powers, assurances of their earnest desire to cultivate the relations of peace, and maintain the most friendly understanding with His Majesty.

It is with increased regret that His Majesty again adverts to the condition of the Portuguese Monarchy; but His Majesty commands us to repeat His determination to use every effort to reconcile conflicting interests, and to remove the evils which press so heavily upon a country, the prosperity of which must ever be an object of His Majesty's solicitude.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

His Majesty commands us to thank you for the supplies which you have granted for the service of the year, and to assure you of His Majesty's determination to apply them with every attention to economy.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

His Majesty has commanded us, in conclusion, to express the sincere hope of His Majesty, that the important measures which have been adopted by Parliament in the course of the present session may tend, under the blessing of Divine Providence, to establish the tranquillity and improve the condition of Ireland; and that, by strengthening the bonds of union between the several parts of this great empire, they may consolidate and augment its power, and promote the happiness of His people.

Then a Commission for proroguing the Parliament was read; after which the Lord Chancellor said;

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

By virtue of His Majesty's Commission, under the Great Seal, to us and other Lords directed, and now read, we do, in His Majesty's name, and in obedience to His commands, prorogue this Parliament
